

Opinion Poll

They Don't Attend

Curious as to why more people don't attend vital council meetings, The Record this week conducted a poll.

Those contacted were asked: "Do you attend city council meetings, and if not, why not?"

Following are the answers, some of which speak too well for the lack of interest in local affairs.

Mrs. Robert Lamont, 97 Sheffield drive, said, "We recently moved here. On the nights that the meeting took place we had previous engagements."

Mrs. John R. Renninger, 164 Mayfair drive, said, "Although we have lived in Westlake a short time, my husband has attended. It's all very new to us."

Mrs. Paul D. Oswald, 156 Bruno avenue, stated, that her husband has and still attends when he has the chance. Usually on Monday nights he attends a church meeting. On one occasion, Mr. Oswald was one of four residents who attended the council meeting.

Mrs. Henry J. Thomas, 152 West Moltke Street, said, "We never know when the meetings take place." Asked if she had any criticisms, Mrs. Thomas said, "Naturally if I do not attend the council meetings, I am not in a position to complain."

Mr. A. H. Haskins, 6995 Mission street, stated that his business interests took all of his time. He also stated that he was very interested in community affairs.

Mrs. Don J. Bartell, 2 Wilshire drive, said, "Because of illness in the family we have been very busy and unable to attend these affairs like we should and would like to."

Mrs. Edward River, 221 Woodward Street, said, "Because we have an infant at home it is very difficult to attend. Also, I am very busy at home."

Mrs. D. B. Foster, 499 Knowles street, said, "My husband is a night patrolman for the Matson lines. Personally we would like to attend. We are interested in community affairs. Raising seven children has made it difficult."

Mr. John P. Taylor, 198 Vista Grande Ave., said, "We just moved in. I am usually working on the night the city council meets."

Mrs. E. Larios, 48 Alexander street, said, "I was working nights and my husband was working days, which, with a small child, made it impossible for us to go to the meetings. Now my husband is in the Merchant Marines and I am by myself."

Mrs. A. C. Kirchman, 90 Wilshire drive, said, that because her husband works long hours they are unable to attend. "We are as interested in community affairs as we can be with two small children at this point," she added.

High Water Pressure Delays Westlake Tying Into Daly City Water System

A case of high pressure is costing the city close to $4,000 in the Westlake area, it was learned today.

Last month the city tied in its water system to the south side of Westlake. It was a test run to determine how much of Westlake could be served by Daly City.

The test ended in a minor explosion. It was found the water pressure through the Westlake pipes went as high as 195 pounds. Average pressure is about 90 pounds.

Damage Small

Several pipes were broken, but fast working city water department employees cut off the water before any real damage occurred, Dan Andersen, city administrator, reported. The pressure is caused by the contrasting distance and height of the water reservoir and the lowness of the Westlake area, engineers explain. By the time the water reaches the Westlake pipes a terrific pressure has been built up.

To counteract the pressure, the city council has instructed the city engineer to draw up plans for a pressure reduction valve. Cost of the valve will be between $3,000 and $4,000.

The necessity of this expenditure was explained by Andersen: "Presently, Westlake is being served by San Francisco water. This is sold to Daly City at about $2,300 a month. Consequently, when Daly City can supply Westlake with water, a large expenditure will be saved."

ALTHOUGH SLIGHTLY EXAGGERATED, these two young Misses show the dangers of sitting on the Marchbanks Park benches these days. One had just sat down to arise suddenly with a sharp sliver in her anatomy. While no one has reported a sliver quite that large, many have had trouble with smaller, but just as annoying bits of wood off the bleacher seats. (Photo by Pat Corner)

Marchbanks Park

A Prickly Problem

A reader got right to the "seat" of a problem at Marchbanks Park this week.

He reported it is rapidly becoming a physical danger to assume a sitting position on the Marchbanks Park bleachers. Anyone who has attempted to nestle down comfortably on those boards will realize the truth of his complaint.

It appears there is many a sliver between the trousers of the occupants and the boards upon which they sit.

The bleacher seats are as rough as the back of a porcupine. Those who have attempted to adjust themselves to comfort have often ended extracting slivers from various sections of their anatomy.

We respectfully bring this to the attention of the city fathers, and request immediate action with sandpaper.

The cost of smoothing the seats would be nominal, but the results would be phenomenal in encouraging greater attendance at Marchbanks Park.

Navy Enters Bookie Case

Local Man Arrested For Allegedly Harboring A Bookie On His Property

It appeared today the U. S. Navy may save a Daly City man charged with permitting bookies to operate on his property.

This was the latest development in a week which saw two more bookies plead guilty to taking bets, and a Daly City resident entering a similar plea for harboring a bookie.

Alex J. McArthur, 29, a local realtor, who resides at 3299 San Jose avenue was arrested Tuesday. He was charged with renting his premises at 6157 Mission street to Robert Magdison, a n d Aldo "Blinky" Ferraris. The latter two have pled guilty to bookmaking and are now awaiting sentence.

When arraigned before Judge W. J. Sweeney, Wednesday, McArthur said he was going into the navy October 26. He noted a sentence might delay him doing his bit for Uncle Sam.

Local police and the district attorney's office are looking into McArthur's story. Neither official body has indicated what action will be taken if McArthur is telling the truth about his enlistment.

Hearing Set

Meanwhile, the Daly City realtor has been released on $1,000 cash bail and his preliminary hearing is set for Wednesday, October 17 in local police court.

The same day McArthur was arrested, Nathan Martinelli, 45, entered a plea of guilty before Superior Judge Edmund Scott to charges of harboring a bookie in his two-story home at 27 Woodrow street.

On a motion by District Attorney Assistant Fred H. Wycoff, similar charges against Mrs. Martinelli were dismissed.

Charge Dismissed

The couple had been scheduled to go on trial Tuesday. When they appeared in court with their attorney, John J. Fahey, Martinelli withdrew a previous plea of not guilty.

Charges against Mrs. Martinelli were dismissed on the grounds that she "only lived in the house, and all the business transactions were handled by her husband."

Wycoff asserts this was the first such case prosecuted in the county, and only the second one of its kind on record in the California appellate courts.

Mr. and Mrs. Martinelli were indicted by the grand jury August 14, following a raid on the Woodrow street residence which turned up bookmaking paraphernalia, but no bookies.

This was the opening raid in a series of similar raids by the district attorney's office and local police to "clean up" Daly City.

Two More Down

Meanwhile, last Friday Danny Capece, 35, and Albert Leffler, 48, pled guilty to felony bookmaking.

SECOND BRICKER BOY WOUNDED IN KOREA

Cpl. Leo Antone Bricker, 19, 313 Peoria street, who was recently wounded in Korea, was reported well again and back at the front lines.

Bricker, while in action with the Marine Corp, was hit in the shoulder by a piece of hot shrapnel. Doctors reported no complications and the shoulder healed quickly. A recent letter to his father, Mr. Fred Bricker, revealed that Cpl. Bricker was returning to action.

Bricker was a member of last year's Jefferson Union High School football squad.

In the early part of the year, Antone's younger brother, Jim Bricker, 18, also of the Marine Corps, was wounded in the Chang Gin reservoir campaign.

Jim is now on duty at the Alameda Naval Air Station.

Police Don't Care Who Gets Tagged

Parking tags may be a nuisance, but police are democratic in handing them out.

Police Judge W. J. Sweeney, Wednesday, dutifully paid a parking meter violation he had rung up while parked on Mission Street. He fined himself the regular $1.00.

However, he dismissed a second charge on the tag . . . failure to show his car's registration. The judge claims his license was plainly visible.

Officer Dean Wood, who tagged Judge Sweeney's car, had no comment.

Beachcombing Another Dream Is Punctured

A half starved, dying San Francisco man this week punched a hole in the theory that beachcombing is an idyllic life.

It started three years ago when Clyde Shelton, then 59, decided to seek his livelihood by beachcombing. He didn't have the money to go to the South Seas, so he chose the nearest stretch of sand for his wanderings... Thornton Beach.

The former San Francisco postal clerk built himself a makeshift shack in a secluded section of the beach which borders Daly City.

First Year

The first year, he reports, he managed to find enough fish and floating timber to keep his stomach filled and his body warm. Everything went well for another year, but last month things began to change. Somehow he couldn't find what he needed.

Things went from bad to worse and a week ago he was so weak from lack of food and water that he couldn't move out of his shack.

Although within sight of help, Shelton today said he might as well have been a cast-away on a lonely island.

Fortunately, an unidentified resident spotted the shack and heard Shelton's groans.

A few minutes later Daly City police arrived to find him semi-conscious and on the point of starvation.

Rushed from his "beach retreat" to Community Hospital, Shelton was given a square meal.

He reported today he has given up the idea of beachcombing, and will look for a less idyllic retreat in the heart of San Francisco.

WEDNESDAY IS NEW CITY COURT DAY

Session in the Daly City police court has been changed from Friday at 2 p.m. to Wednesday at 2 p.m., Judge W. J. Sweeney announced today.

The change is effective this week.

Court is held on the second floor of City Hall, 75 Wellington Avenue.

The alteration was made to assure speedier action on cases, Judge Sweeney said.

Community Chest

Door To Door Collection Campaign To Be Held This Sunday; Give Generously

Citizens of the Daly City-Greater Colma area will receive a chance to contribute to a great cause beginning Sunday, October 14, when San Mateo county, along with most of the Bay area, opens its 1951 Annual Community Chest Drive.

Contributions will be gathered by door to door soliciting conducted by Community Chest Volunteers.

The local campaign will be handled by the Daly City-Colma chest organization under the direction of Red Feather Chairman Fred Bertetta.

Crucial Test

According to J. Neil Hanson, county campaign chairman, the 1951 campaign will be a crucial test for the federated fund raising method, as the chest with its

Paper Bag Used As Robbery Weapon

Employing an unusual hold-up method, two unknown men robbed Eduardo Larios, 48 Alexander avenue, of his wallet containing $65 early Saturday morning. The theft took place at the intersection of Templeton avenue and Peoria street, according to Larios' report to Daly City police.

Larios stated he was in a bar near the San Francisco county line with two young men whom he did not know. He admitted that during this time he displayed his wallet with the $65.

He left the bar on foot and as he reached the Templeton and

Hiding Daly City

Let's Get Out Of The Closet

The campaign to restore to Daly City its original Spanish name Vista Grande will continue with even more vigor, W. F. Strong, leader of the Vista Grande Restoration movement announced yesterday.

He said the campaign would continue in spite of the fact that the Armed Forces called back into service the group's last remaining member.

"If we have to make this world a better place to live," Mr. Strong stated, "we might just as well start at home!"

Government's Restrictions On Steel Indicates Additional Double Sessions

A sharp reduction in steel allocations may seriously curtail new school construction in the Daly City area, The Record learned today.

Government restrictions on the use of steel will cut the local supply to a minimum for at least the first half of 1952, Washington D. C. sources said.

Present government restrictions have already held up construction of two of San Francisco's biggest schools.

DOG HOSPITAL

HEARING SET FOR OCTOBER 23

Many Residents Object To The Proposed Structure

(Ed. Note: Number of residents at city council meeting: one, Ed Cavagnaro, 428 Irvington Street.)

A first class fight was shaping up today as a score of residents vociferously protested construction of a new veterinary hospital on Junipero Serra Boulevard near School street.

At their regular council meeting Monday night, the council set Tuesday, October 23, at 8 p.m. for a hearing of protests. The hearing was evidently not set for a regular council meeting, as city officials expect many protests, which might hold up the regular city business.

Request

Dr. Martin Fremont, a Los Altos veterinarian, has requested the zoning ordinance be amended to allow him to open the cat and dog hospital. He asserted the building would be modern, sound proof, and would in no way bother local residents.

Home owners in the immediate vicinity have another idea. In previous communications to the city council they have objected to

WESTLAKE BRANCH P. O. NOW OPEN

Postmaster John F. Fixa today announced that the residents of the Westlake District in Daly City will be provided with additional postal service beginning Tuesday, October 9, 1951, with the opening of a contract Post Office branch at Crown Drug Company, 355 South Mayfair Avenue.

This branch office will handle stamp sales, domestic money orders and parcel post. The Post Office will be supervised by Clerk in Charge, Clarence Brown.

Station hours will be 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays, and 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Saturdays, Mr. Fixa added.

High School

Viewing the critical steel situation today, Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the Jefferson High School District, said:

"The situation does not look very encouraging. Our application for construction of the new high school is not in."

He explained the application has not been made, because the school board still must determine a site for the new school.

Hannah also expressed doubt if renovations on the present school could be completed should a steel cutback be enforced.

Elementary Schools

When asked if the situation would directly affect the local proposed elementary and secondary projects, Superintendent of Schools H. Z. Weibel replied he had received no word thus far.

"We have had our steel allocated for the projected buildings," he said.

This does not mean, however, that the schools will definitely receive the necessary steel.

Superintendent Weibel mentioned that he attended a PTA meeting in South San Francisco last week. At that time, school officials and parents were notified

Both big time bookies, who were taking lay off bets as high as $10,000 a day from a 250 Citrus avenue home, were indicted by the grand jury August 21.

It was this raid which prompted the early retirement of Police Chief W. W. Sunderland, who had been under fire as a suspect tip-off man in a previous bookie raid in the north of the city.

Judge Draper asked for a probation report on the two men, and set October 29 for trial on sentencing. Capece and Leffler remained free under $5,000 cash bond each.

Westlake Water Pressure Too High

It is expected the reduction valve will be installed within the next 60 days, and at least half of Westlake will then be served by the Daly City water system.

The city still has to determine whether present facilities are adequate for the whole Westlake area.

Eventually, Andersen said, the Daly City system will be expanded so to include all of Westlake and any future growth in the area.

MAN BEATEN FOR VOICING SUSPICIONS

For not keeping his suspicions to himself, Al Pierson was beaten up in a Daly City bar late last Thursday night by two unidentified men.

The incident was the outcome of Mrs. Irene Hunter, 2623 Mission street, leaving a $5.00 bill on the bar and going out of the place for a minute. When she returned the bill had disappeared.

It was then that Pierson voiced his opinion that the two men patrons in the place were the only ones close enough to have taken the money. The men attacked him and succeeded in fleeing before Daly City police could arrive.

fied by state officials of a reduction in their steel allocations. Aroused by this announcement, suggestions were made to seek aid through congressmen.

Tracing Stage

"Our plans are in the tracing stage," Weibel said. "They are ready for submission to Sacramento for the purpose of getting the tracings approved, he added.

Weibel will journey to Sacramento next week to submit the plans. Also, he will investigate the community's position in the current steel cut-backs.

Should steel cut backs halt construction of the proposed schools, it would create a serious problem in the Daly City-Colma area. The community is growing every day. Also, the number of children coming of school age is increasing.

Weibel viewed the situation thusly, "I have made a survey with the help of builders as to the number of houses planned for the area. Indications are that there will be a substantial increase in enrollment in the future."

Washington Reports

In Washington, it is reported that the amount of steel, that was allocated by the National Production Authority to the Federal Security Agency for use in school construction during the last quarter of 1951, has been cut almost in half.

This caused the cancellation of 2,000 certificates of approval for steel.

An official from the office of education in Washington, referring to the decrease in allocations of steel, stated that part of the current quarter's allotment was being utilized to complete projects started in past quarters.

With anticipations of similar conditions in the future, the official stated, that starts of new school projects, except in critical areas, would probably be prohibited.

Sections of California are designated as areas of the most critical need.

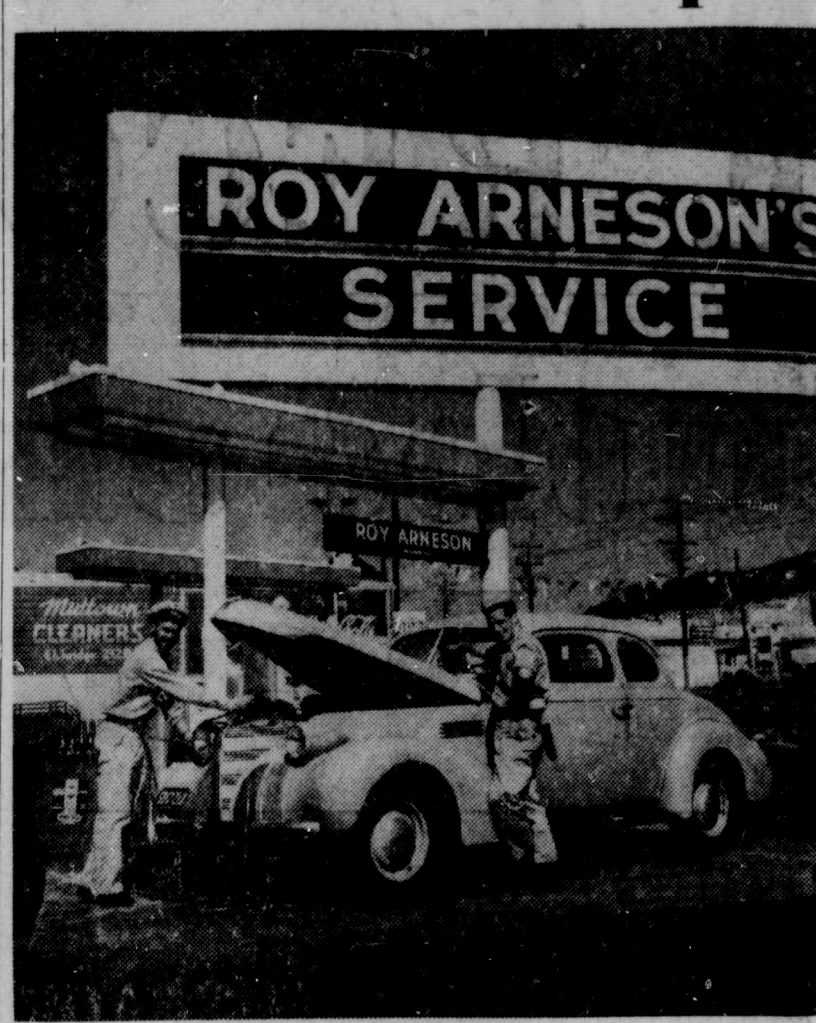

Rep. Anderson (R., Calif.) is reported working on the office of education and the NPA to give schools priority after national defense.

Daly City Baby Adopts Ink Drinking Habit

Some of the ink he spilled, but some of it he drank. And that was why fifteen-month-old Scott B. Smith, 193 Wilshire drive, was taken to the Juniper Serra hospital Monday afternoon.

Responding to a call from the child's mother, Officer Munday of the Daly City police department took the child, together with his mother, to the hospital where the baby received treatment. Afterwards Officer Munday returned the two to their home.

DOG POISONING CASES INVESTIGATED

Police today are checking rumors that several dogs were killed in the Westlake area recently by strychnine injected into pieces of meat.

Chief Roland Petrocchi reports a piece of meat containing some type of poison was found near Niante Avenue—not in Westlake. The meat is being checked for the type of poison.

The Westlake Property Owners Association is also attempting to pin down the rumors which circulated early in the week. To date, an official reports, they have found few specific cases of poisoning.

Police have indicated the "epidemic" of dog poisoning is more rumor than reality.

Community Chest

once-a-year fund drive supplants what would otherwise be separate appeals for fifteen causes.

These causes rolled into one under Community Chest include care for neglected homeless children, help for families in distress, recreation and citizenship training for boys and girls, and home nursing and health services.

Daly City-Colma Community Chest leaders view the coming drive optimistically.

Following the October 3 meeting of local chest leaders, Mr. Fred Bertetta stated, "All sections of the combined Daly City-Colma area were well represented at the meeting, and optimism, backed by solid organization and planning was the 'order of the day.'"

They Help

Those present were: Jack Price, George Gaggero, Fred Bertetta, John Newton, Edw. Weisenberger, Elmer Kennedy, Tom Jenkins, Ralph Damon, Mr. Rector, Mrs. Hilda Heagney, Mrs. Bieber, Mrs. Hoper, Mrs. Lyl Ingersoll, Mrs. Edw. Goldkuhl, Mrs. E. W. Peasley, Mrs. Calvin Boberg, Mrs. Leonard Oppenheim, Mrs. Arley Black, Mrs. Hoke Garrison, Mrs. Arthur Heyden, Mr. Ray Ingram, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. Gerda Weiden, Mrs. Bill Bolce, Mrs. C. Keith.

All money raised in the county campaign is used directly in San Mateo county with the exception of one-third of one per cent, which goes to the National Community Chest headquarters in New York.

Citizens are asked to have their pledges ready when the solicitor calls.

In a final appeal to citizens to support the 15 agencies for which funds will be raised, Chest president George Atkinson, stated, that he hoped all citizens would give generously and support the Red Feather agencies so that full services would be available next year. He emphasized that four out of every ten families in San Mateo county receive some kind of benefit from their community chest.

All residents who have an interest in this matter are urged to attend the meeting at city hall Tuesday, October 23.

Smith Speaks

Meanwhile, the council heard a protest of another sort from Daly City's former mayor, H. H. Smith. In a letter to the city, Smith requested an interpretation of an ordinance which makes property owners responsible for the condition of sidewalks adjoining their land.

Claiming Daly City was the only community with such an ordinance, Smith wished to know whether he would be held responsible for keeping the sidewalks clean in the proposed extension of Brunswick Street, through his rock quarry, to Hillside Boulevard. He noted present plans allegedly call for steep banks along each side of the sidewalks, and rocks might well roll off these banks on to the pavement.

In conclusion, he demanded the city so support the banks as to remove the danger of rubble cluttering up the sidewalks.

Mayor Paul Green had the letter referred to himself for an answer. Later the mayor said engineering plans for the job preclude slides occurring.

A contract for extending the street was recently awarded by the city. Meanwhile, Smith is appealing a case which set the sur city must pay him for his quarry property. He said the sum was much too low.

Other action taken by the city council Monday included:

1. Extended the time of the eligibility lists for civil service employees from two to four years.
 2. Appointed John Coleman and Albert Conci as patrolmen with the Daly City police force.
 3. Postponed action for changing zoning regulations in the Castle tract until more information is obtainable.
 4. Postponed a partial payment of $4,050 to Eaton and Smith for extension of Knowles Avenue.
- Councilman Fred Bertetta asserted the company had not done enough work on the job to warrant the partial payment. The other councilmen agreed to put it over another two weeks, pending an investigation of the matter.

Death Takes Mrs. Augustus

Funeral services were held Wednesday, in Burlingame, for Mrs. Mary Eunice Augustus, the widow of County Clerk William H. Augustus.

Mrs. Augustus followed her husband in death by 13 days when she succumbed to a long illness Sunday night at Community Hospital.

Mrs. Augustus was a member of the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans.

She is survived by a son, William Jr., a brother, Charles Stagner, and a daughter, Mrs. Mabel Saner.

Mrs. Augustus was buried alongside her husband in Golden Gate Cemetery at San Bruno.

New Jobs Created In Police Dept.

There are two new ranks in the Daly City police department today. They are chief inspector, and inspector; posts which will be filled by Sgt. Roy Beecher and Sgt. August Benassini.

A letter creating the two posts has been forwarded to Chief Roland Petrocchi by the city council. Confirmation of the letter will be made at the council meeting of October 22.

Salary increases for the two new positions will be set following a meeting between the council and the civil service board of review next month.

The change in the local police organization is part of a program launched a month ago to revamp and streamline the department. It was started by the district attorney's office in conjunction with the city council.

Veterans Office Offers Method To Cut Red Tape

Before a veteran "takes his pen in hand" to complain to some governmental agency about delays in connection with his rights and benefits, he should try a visit or a telephone call to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Office, San Mateo County, Redwood City.

The reason cited by Granger for this suggestion is that in most cases it will save the veteran valuable time, and in a few cases it may even keep him from being further tangled in red tape.

"We make it our business to know why certain delays occur," Granger said. "Certain ones are routine—for example, authorization for dental treatment cannot be granted until the veteran's wartime dental records are obtained from the armed forces and are studied."

The reason for a delay in a National Service Life Insurance check can usually be readily found by someone familiar with the method of processing such payments. Similarly, World War II veterans studying under the GI Bill of Rights are being informed already that their initial subsistence checks will be late in coming.

Granger added that knowing where and to whom to write is important as well as knowing when to write, and offered the facilities of his office at the Courthouse, Redwood City, to veterans and their dependents with any inquiry or complaint in connection with veteran matters.

The original county court house of Calaveras County was made of sections of camphor wood, shipped there from China.

When Mexico ceded California to the United States, ten million of the State's one hundred million acres were owned by individuals.

Airport Terminal Job Under Way

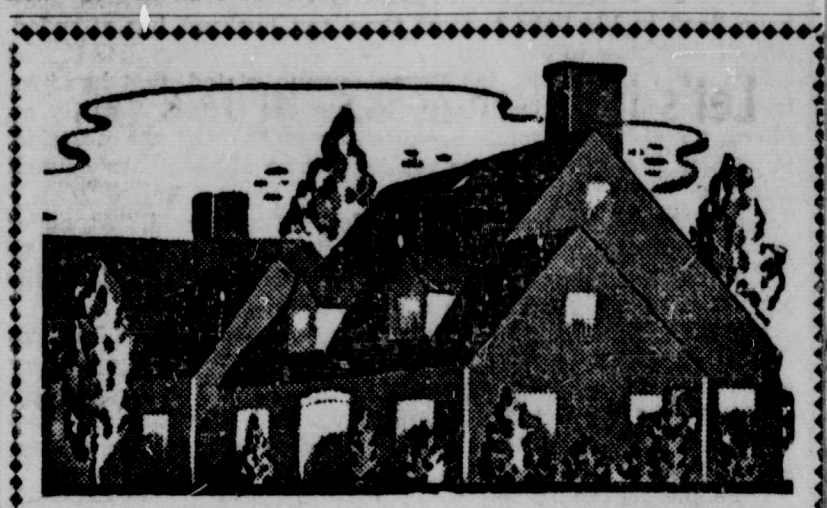

Following ground breaking ceremonies attended by officials and civic leaders of San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Alameda Counties, work is now under way on the new $6,500,000 terminal building at San Francisco's International Airport.

The building will be one of the world's most modern airport terminals, according to the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission. It will have six floors and a control tower, a view dining room and spectator terraces overlooking the field.

For passengers there will be shower facilities, barber shops, cleaning and pressing places, a first aid station and coffee shop in addition to two patios sheltered from the wind.

The new terminal is financed through a $10,000,000 bond issue voted in 1949 and federal funds. The contract for the structure calls for completion within two years.

Here's why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!

For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving . . . and here's why you get it only in Ford Cars:

All the power you need when you need it!

Some automatics have this

The automatic drive some cars offer you is a torque converter which multiplies torque without the use of gears. Its disadvantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a smaller range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an uneconomical axle ratio which increases costs.

Some automatics have this

Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage here is more "go," more control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.

It gives you instant "GO!"

It practically drives itself!

But Fordomatic has both

Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives.

Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise all in one drive gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in intermediate gear, then shifts itself into Drive Gear.

Let's Junk Democracy In Daly City

The time has come to eliminate elections and council meetings.

We see no conceivable reason for going to the expense of an election in a community where everyone appears quite satisfied, not only with their city officials, but the actions of those men.

It is reasonable to assume this conclusion should meet with the general approval of the public. Daly City residents long ago gave up any claims to participating in democratic forms of government.

People are interested in the workings of the city only as long as that mysterious machinery continues to keep the water flowing to homes, the garbage collected, and their children occupied in parks. No one particularly cares who is responsible for these necessary functions.

The present city officials appear to have kept this machinery well oiled. They are performing as well as any group of men could be expected to perform.

With elections eliminated, why bother to hold council meetings?

The cost of these meetings, in the amount of heat and light needed for the council chambers, might well be better spent on baubles to keep the taxpayers contented. No one attends the meetings and it is useless to heat a chamber, which can seat over 100 people, when it is occupied only by the seven to 10 city officials.

Democracy, too, is a word which implies participation by the public in public affairs. As this participation is lacking, we think it only reasonable to eliminate democracy from the vocabulary of local residents. Daly City home owners have no more real conception of that word than do the salt miners of Siberia.

We think it is time to stop kidding ourselves. Lack of public interest is equivalent to a totalitarian state, regardless of how well managed and how conscientious officials may be within that state.

Therefore, we conclude it's time to run up a new flag on city hall, junk the elections and slap a lock on the city council chambers.

No one will notice these changes, anyway. And think of the money we could save.

Our Civilian Defense Baby Is Overdue

In a meeting of county-city officials last week, Dr. Harold Chope, county health director, compared civilian defense to childbirth...necessary, but painful.

He didn't know much about Daly City's civilian defense.

It seems about a year ago the city let the public in on the fact it was going to have a "baby." There was much talk around city hall, and the excitement synonymous with a blessed event was throughout the land.

City officials proudly announced they were the father of the civilian defense kid.

We don't like to say anything, but just between us girls, that baby is long overdue...by about three months. As a matter of fact, and don't tell anyone, we think the announcement was a little premature. The city had gas. Maybe it was shame, but the proud fathers haven't shown much interest in civilian defense "children" since. It looks to us like they've given up.

It also appears that way to county officials, who last week looked in vain for representatives of this fair city at an important civilian defense meeting in Redwood City. The meeting was well attended by officials who had taken an interest in civilian defense...but when they called on Daly City there was nothing but silence.

Supervisor Edward McDonald was slightly peeved, and said as much. But, then, he doesn't understand the Daly City situation is a delicate one, when it comes to mentioning civilian defense "children."

An Investment With Big Dividends

In a day when everyone from the kids to Uncle Sam have upped the anti of the weekly pay check take, it is difficult to see giving any more.

There is an exception to this conclusion, and that is the Community Chest. Next week you will be called on to donate to an organization which over the years has become synonymous with service to you and your family. Unlike taxes, and junior's allowance, you will not have to give. However, this is one case where the donation can be measured in actual savings. The paradox is simply resolved when you figure the more the Community Chest has, the more it will be able to assist you, and the community in which you live.

We believe, therefore, your donation to the Community Chest is not just so much money given to a good cause...rather it represents an investment in good living. This is a "company" in which you can and must hold "stock."

An investment in the Community Chest is actually better than putting money in the bank, for its rate of interest is the highest possible...human happiness.

A Dog Killer Might Have Been A "Murderer"

Over in Westlake, the other day, whether by intention or mistake, someone put out enough poison to kill several dogs.

We realize the dog isn't universally loved, especially when you're laboring on a lawn; still we can't see any excuse to put him out of his misery by poisoning. Although old fashioned, we think any animal should be given a fighting chance for survival.

However, regardless of what feeling the populace has for dogs, most have some respect for the lives of children. We still have to see a man intentionally murder a child, although some drivers appear bent to prove us wrong.

The person who put out the poison for the dogs (or rats, as the case may be) was tantamount to a murderer. It is never pleasant to see any animal die, and the dogs gulping the poison died in a miserable fashion. A child would have died in much the same manner, with possibly a little more voice.

We suggest, therefore, residents throughout Daly City think twice before putting out poison to kill rats or dogs. In so doing they may prove to be the biggest "rats," and child killers in the community.

Voters Might Decide On Name Changing

Strong is back as strong as ever in his campaign to switch the name of Daly City to Vista Grande. (See page 1.)

Heretofore, many have considered the proposal of name changing as only a joke.

We believe it is past that stage. There has been enough talk recently to suggest many are seriously considering a change in name for our community. Whether the best choice is "Vista Grande" has still to be determined, or for that matter, whether a switch in name is advisable.

This is a personal matter, and one in which

The Record hardly feels it can advise anyone.

However, those who back the proposed ditching of "Daly City," in favor of another name, might do well to put this suggestion before the voters at the April elections. We believe it would prove interesting to discover whether this is simply talk, or has basis in a sincere belief we could use another name on the map.

Strong, and his backers, might look into this possibility.

Meanwhile, The Record will continue to keep its readers posted on the running campaign to change the community's identity.

National Bible Week Observed Here

National Bible Week will be observed in Daly City this year from October 15 to 21. Many local churches have planned, or are making plans to mark the week.

The Record wholeheartedly endorses this week, and calls upon every resident to reacquaint himself with his church during those seven days.

Today, in a world which has been corrupted by cynicism and fear, a thorough knowledge of the teachings of the Bible is more important than ever before. The world's most terrible problems have resulted from the loss and destruction of those spiritual values which our ancestors held to be preeminent.

The greatest strength of a people lies in the realm of the spirit.

A "ROLL BACK" HE MAY NOT EXPECT

Your Library Books Play An Important Role In Assuring Happiness Of Children

by Lorraine deFanti
Assistant Librarian
A record registration of over 900 was realized at the 53rd annual California Library Association's Convention, held in San Francisco October 3-6.

At the first general session of the Conference, which was presided over by San Francisco head librarian Laurence Clarke, an entertaining and informative speech was delivered by Dr. L. Powell, librarian at the University of California at Los Angeles. Dr. Powell related the many experiences connected with his recent travels abroad. At this same session, the new State Librarian, Mrs. C. Zimmerman, was introduced to the group. She replaces retiring state librarian, Mabel Gillis.

Boys and Girls Workshop
I was able to attend two of the section meetings for work with boys and girls. The first was a panel discussion consisting of people outside library work. This panel discussed the needs of children as they understood them.

The first speaker was Mrs. F. Hagee of the Child Guidance Services in San Francisco Public Schools. As a psychiatric social worker she showed how books and reading can form an integral part of a child's emotional development. With examples from some of her case studies, Mrs. Hagee illustrated just how books can be indicative of some of the very deepest needs of children.

The second panel member was Mrs. E. Cochran, Principal of Commodore Sloat Elementary School, who spoke on the role of books in children's life as seen by an educator. She pointed out how teachers must relate children and books to the aims of education. The first indication of the child's desire to read is in the home, but as Mrs. Cochran said, parents need help along these lines, and this is where libraries and schools come in.

An important point this speaker made was that as adults we should never encourage a child to read beyond his background in experience, for such coercion might not only cause an aversion to books later on, but might also deprive him of a full appreciation of the beauty of good books when presented at the right age. The educator concluded by saying that with the help of parents, teachers, and librarians, youth will be enabled to find and understand their American heritage, and because of their association with books, will be better people and citizens.

Last Speaker
The last panel speaker was the scientist, Mr. T. Groody, director of the television program, "Science in Action." He explained the mechanisms of his program, and expressed the belief that scientists and librarians are very close allies, for the former preserve the records of culture, while the latter help to distribute this information. Mr. Groody illustrated how TV, along with radio and movies, can help in making available to youth, the scientific storehouse of knowledge. He emphasized the point that TV handled in the proper manner can work toward the preservation of man's cultural heritage and not for its destruction. The scientist stated that because TV is the most intimate media of communication, it carries a terrific impact, and thus it can become a real teaching aid. Too, the caliber of TV programs can be raised if schools and libraries work along with it. If such rapport is established, Mr. Groody feels certain that TV can be used most effectively in leading people to books rather than replacing printed material.

Workshop
At the October 6th workshop, the techniques of story telling were discussed. Many interesting displays were set up in the Gold Room of the Fairmont Hotel, throughout the convention's duration, a few of which I hope to adapt for use in our library. Of course, it was impossible to Pennies In Hiding... Or, Who Has A Corner On The Coin Market?

The nationwide shortage of coins, first observed after the outbreak of hostilities in Korea last year, is becoming increasingly acute in this area, the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco announced today.

While it has not been necessary to resort to formal rationing, the Bank is finding it difficult to meet the present extremely heavy demand, particularly for pennies and half-dollars, even though commercial member banks have cooperated by ordering only their minimum requirements.

The principal shortage problem throughout the country is that of the lowly penny. Even though the mints have operated on as high as a 60-hour work week, they have been unable to relieve the situation. A reduction in the supply of copper allotted by the National Production Authority, and delays in deliveries of the metal due to recent strikes, have been contributing factors.

Other reasons for the penny shortage, outside of the general effect of greatly expanded business activity, are the prevalence of odd-cent pricing, sales taxes, parking meters, and vending machines. Not to be ignored, above all, are the cookie jars, piggy banks, and other household containers, which hold much of the more than 17 billion one-cent pieces which are outstanding.

Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, recently issued an appeal for each American family to return to circulation just ten of these one-cent pieces. If this were done, she pointed out, nearly 388 million pennies would come out of hiding, a number that would take the mint five months of 60-hour work weeks to produce, using up 1260 tons of scarce copper.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, joining in this appeal, urges the public to cooperate fully in releasing coins of all denominations which have been accumulated in home containers. The coins will be accepted either for deposit or for exchange into paper currency by any bank, or they may be used for making ordinary purchases. Prompt and widespread action in this regard will help greatly in meeting the peak demands of the approaching holiday season.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

While idly stroking our octagonal jaw the other day, it occurred to us men over the past decade have lost an important birthright.

We speak of the beard.
Some 50 years ago, if memory serves us correctly, a man wasn't worthy of being called a man less he sprouted a shaggy growth from nose to chest. There were varieties of beards, of course, but all of them could be spotted a spittoon's distance away. There were none of these hyphen marks under the nose, or carefully waxed six hairs protruding from the jaw. In those days a beard was a beard, not a five o'clock shadow.

Moreover, the man was proud of his hairy, beautiful addition. He spent many a year growing it, and almost as many hours protecting it from the ravages of cold beer and hot soup. He combed it with gusto, trimmed it with care, and philosophically watched it grow yellow with age or tobacco.

Universal
The beard was a universal mark of distinction. No gentleman worthy of the professions of doctor, lawyer, minister, ditch digger or dray driver dared be seen without a bushy growth. There were even two gents who made the beard a trade-mark for cough drops. A man without a beard was little better than a woman without a bustle.

Fortunately, progress did away with the addition to the woman's already ample proportions; but unfortunately the beard went the same way.

We suspect women were responsible for the loss of the beard... for, after all, they can be found as the prime movers in any situation where men have surrendered certain basic liberties. With more freedom, when the kiss became an acceptable weapon of love outside of wedlock, women demanded the beard must go. They asserted the noble growth played havoc with their fair complexions.

Traitor
Politicians, also, turned traitor to their sex. Whereas, before women had not complained about bearded men kissing their babies, they suddenly discovered this was unhealthy. The politico, always anxious to get a vote by slobbering over a baby, turned to the razor.

So it went, from the liberation of women, to the politician, to the razor. Beyond this was advertising. The razor blade companies would have gone bankrupt had men continued to nurse beards. Through ads, these companies made it as fashionable to wear a beard as to be caught at a party with B. O.

We are sorry to report under all this pressure, men capitulated. Today, the beard is no longer a symbol of respectability, rather a sign of a bum, bohemian or barbarian. Occasionally, men find some excuse to let their whiskers grow; but their numbers can be found among the ranks of bachelors or strong willed husbands.

Beards are now as rare as steak is tough. However, convinced there are still some rugged individuals in our midst, we hereby make an offer of a mustache cup, four rusty razor blades and a cuspidor to any local gent who can show us a healthy beard. And, once more, we'll print his picture in The Record.

We will have six girls on the switch board Friday to take your calls... PLaza 5-4321. Give us a call, if you can call yourself a man with a beard.

OLPH Country Fair Promises To Be The Best In Years

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Country Fair, which will take place on October 19, 20, and 21, in the school auditorium and school grounds, is shaping up in such a manner as to be really in the winning class.

At a recent meeting of chairmen and key workers, plans were discussed and ends were tied, booths and committees worked out, with last minute changes and switches.

Assisting Mrs. Rose Kristen, who has charge of the Apron Booth will be Mrs. Agnes Anderson and Mrs. Mary Casebolt. This booth, which is being sponsored by the Mothers Club, is a new one and according to Mrs. Kristen, should be a wonderful popular one. She reports that the beautiful hand-made aprons have been pouring in—in all sizes from great big grandmotherly coverall aprons to the little bits of nothing which are really not worth much as an apron, but are very pretty and should put any hard working hostess in the glamour class.

Late Comer
Another late comer is the ever popular Candy Booth in which members of the Newman Club, the parish's teen-age group, will be working. The Newman Club members have also been helping with the decorating of the hall. Among those seen at the parish hall, busily tacking, hammering and climbing ladders are Don Rode, Garold Donofrio, Heather Bridges and Stan Stanton.

Mrs. Janet Fellman and Mrs. Catherine Ricci, who are chairmen of a Doll Booth, announce that they have several beautiful dolls and stuffed toys to present. Some favorite grandchild, niece or small friend could be made very happy with a gift of one of these lovely toys at Christmas. Come and try your luck. Helping Mrs. Fellman and Mrs. Ricci will be Mrs. Kay Balasteri and Mrs. Helen Crystal.

Country Store
The Country Store, which will have a variety of groceries, promises to be an interesting spot. Under the generalship of Mrs. Josephine Lamendola, these energetic women are full of elaborate plans. Since these are discarded and changed daily one will have to simply await the official opening of the Country Fair to see what they are up to. Their costumes are being planned between fits of laughter and seem to feature rather prominently some monstrosities in the way of hats! However, Mrs. Lamendola says that one of the helpers, the mysterious Madam X, is a gorgeous red-head and invites one and all to come and meet her.

Another booth which has been added is the Merchandise Booth. Many of these articles are also most suitable for Christmas gifts, so come and do your shopping early! Mrs. Eda Bonini is chairman of this booth, assisted by Mrs. Genevieve Dinsmore, Mrs. Marina Ciabattari, Mrs. Alida Barsotti, Mrs. Thiebaut and Mrs. Eleanor McDougall.

Awards
Many awards will be given during this three-day Country Fair, and the Refreshment booth, staffed by members of St. Mary's Court, Catholic Daughters of America, will be ready to serve at all times. Admission to the Country Fair is Free. Come and enjoy the sights.

Don't forget, the doors to the Country Fair will open at 7:00 o'clock Friday night, 6:00 o'clock Saturday night and 1 p.m. Sunday, and will continue through Sunday evening until everyone feels like going home. All are invited. Come and enjoy the fun. Bring your friends. Everyone is welcome.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

This Sunday, October 14, will start the Community Chest's annual drive, for funds to support its many worthwhile agencies. There are fifteen of these agencies and their job is to provide you with services not offered by tax supported county or state bureaus.

Such a fund raising drive is a tremendous project and as you know, it is carried out for the most part by volunteer workers who know what the Chest does in San Mateo County. They have worked with the Girl or Boy Scouts, used the Visiting Nursing Association in times of sickness or the San Mateo Blood Bank; the Family Service Agency may have helped them or someone they know to solve seemingly unsolvable domestic problems.

Many of the volunteer workers in the Daly City-Colma area for this year's drive are "old timers" at the job—along with helping the Red Cross, with school bonds and other worthwhile civil matters.

Community Chest Group To Meet

The San Mateo County Teachers Association, which is concluding the first county-wide Community Chest drive in its history, will meet at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday, October 11) at Borel School, San Mateo, to make final reports on its first major undertaking of the year.

Dan K. Tilley, chairman of the Professional Improvement Committee of the Teachers Association, which is heading the drive, today expressed thanks to the many teachers who have donated to the Chest. "We are glad to see our Association working together, putting forth this splendid group effort, for such a worthy cause," Tilley stated.

Tilley also gave thanks to the many teachers and superintendents who gave of their time as campaign chairmen throughout the county. Many new members volunteered their services during the early part of the drive, Tilley pointed out.

Volunteers Asked For Gray Ladies
Mrs. Richard Heimann, Chairman of Gray Lady Service for the local Red Cross, today sent out an appeal for more Gray Lady volunteers.

While her regular staff of volunteers are busy every Monday at Veterans Hospital in Palo Alto and at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, none of them is able to undertake night work, in addition to their already heavy schedule. Mrs. Heimann states that a new ward is to be opened at Veterans Hospital in Palo Alto, and Thursday evening of each week Gray Ladies will be needed to read to the men, play games with them, and carry on other regular scheduled Gray Lady projects.

"Here is an opportunity," Mrs. Heimann said, "for women who are busy in the daytime, but have available free hours during the evening, to aid these hospitalized veterans. This morale building work is richly rewarding to the volunteer. The need is so great and the results so satisfactory."

The time involved will be only one and a half hours a week, Thursday evenings between 7:00 and 8:30 p.m. Women who have a few spare hours at this time of day are urged to call the Red Cross, DL 3-4561, and make an appointment with Mrs. Heimann for an interview.

WESTLAKE KING AND QUEEN CONTEST
Westlake Kiddies, don't forget to enter the Halloween King and Queen Contest.

All children 8 to 12 are eligible. Simply guess the number of beans in the jar located at the Westlake Super Market, and deposit your entry along with name and address in the box near the jar.

LOCAL YOUNGSTERS CAUSE MISCHIEF
Numerous complaints of children playing in the War Memorial building at Mission and Alp streets were received by Daly City police over the weekend.

Young persons of varying ages were reprimanded by local officers and their parents for using the partially constructed building as a playground and tampering with the loose materials laying around on the premises.

Another youngster who required the attention of local police but for another reason was the child who was reprimanded last Friday for throwing rocks at the rear of the Daly City library.

Still another child had to be helped down from the roof of the Crocker school last Friday when he got himself stranded up there. Daly City firemen came to his aid with a ladder after which his parents took over for a scolding.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Mackintosh on the birth of their new daughter, Janice, born at the Stanford hospital on September 5th and weighing in at seven pounds, three ounces.

WESTLAKE PTA UNIT INAUGURATED; CHARTER OFFICERS ELECTED THURS.

In what may be a record for organization, the Westlake PTA is active today, a month before the new Westlake school opens.

Officers for the new unit were elected at a meeting last Thursday night which was attended by over 130 Westlake residents, and friends.

The new Westlake school will not open until November.

First President
Mrs. Howard Dunbar was elected as the first president of the unit.

Other charter officers include Mesdames: Joe Verducci, vice-president; John Hiller, secretary; Jack Hagopian, corresponding secretary; Jerome Heller, treasurer; Francis Gates, auditor; Arthur Beber, historian. Mrs. Peter Zenovich, new principal of the Westlake School, was named as honorary vice-president.

The officers were installed by Mrs. Fawn Tusca, director of extension for the 17th District CCPT. When the ceremony was completed, Mrs. Tusca handed over the president's gavel to Mrs. Dunbar.

By-Laws Passed
Preceding the election of officers, Mrs. Harry Bosbery read the by-laws for the unit, and they were adopted.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Sirex, president of the 17th District CCPT.

As "big sisters" for the new unit, the James Snell PTA presented the Westlake PTA with a miniature oak tree, symbol of the PTA. On the tree were 50 small acorns, each of which contained a dollar bill.

The meeting concluded when Charles Becker, Westlake attorney, extended the good wishes of the Westlake residents to the new officers of the PTA.

Becker also noted the meeting was being held in the new Westlake Clubhouse, and was by way of an "initiation" for the structure.

Refreshments were then served by the women of the James Snell PTA.

EAGLES BAZAAR THIS WEEK-END

Public Invited To Annual Affair
Come early and stay late.

That invitation was extended today by the Colma-Vista Grande Auxiliary No. 1848, FOE, for their bazaar to be held this Friday and Saturday.

The bazaar will be given at the Eagles Hall from 1 p.m. to midnight both days.

It is promised there will be booths to delight youngsters, teenagers and grown-ups. Co-chairman Albert Diebel and Edna Mona assure the public there will be fun for all.

Whist Party Listed At Eagles Hall

Tuesday is the date of the next monthly whist of the Eagles Auxiliary No. 1848, to be held at the Eagles Hall, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Chairman is Mrs. Edie Summers who states that there will be many valuable prizes, and promises a good time for everyone attending.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

CROCKER SCHOOL
The pupils in the fifth grade, Room 2, are learning to divide by two digit numbers. They are working hard to master the new difficulties they meet in this work.

The Science corner in Room 3 has been the center of interest for several weeks. David Hinkle and Douglas King, have brought their experiments to school to share with the rest of the class. The boys have been trying to prove that if a piece of moist bread is kept in a warm, moist place it will grow mold. The results were very satisfactory.

Next week we shall begin to read and study some of the habits of the birds in the neighborhood.

WOMEN OF MOOSE OBSERVE XMAS EARLY
Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 739 will have Christmas in October at their meeting on October 25th, with Mooseheart Chairman Adelaide Baker in charge of the evening.

Christmas in October means that Christmas gifts are gathered to be prepared for the children at Mooseheart for Christmas. It is also the birthdate of James J. Davis, the founder of Mooseheart.

A group of candidates will be initiated on that night. Mrs. Baker and her committee will serve refreshments following the meeting.

Neighbor Comes To Aid Of Stranded Canine
Another pet victim of being stranded while its owner was away for the weekend is the dog who lives across the street from Mrs. Sousa, 380, San Diego avenue, and in whose interest Mrs. Sousa contacted the Daly City poundman.

The canine's neighbor stated that the animal had been howling day and night and requested that the poundman pick him up.

Adrienne Allain Is Wed Saturday

Miss Adrienne Marie, Allain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allain, 75 Gambetta street, and Clement Paul Schablaske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement F. Schablaske of San Bruno, were united in marriage at a nuptial mass at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Saturday morning.

Father William Stewart officiated at the ceremony, while also in attendance were Father Kennedy from the Marin Catholic High School, and Father Donovan and Father Moher from Serra High School. The altar boy, a cousin of the groom, was Billy Yaley.

The bride was exquisite in a beautiful gown of ivory satin fashioned princess style with a panel of point de venise lace down the front. A pater pan collar, long tight fitting sleeves and a long train were other features of her attire.

Over her hair she wore a cap designed in poke bonnet effect with pleated satin and orange blossoms, and further enhanced with a fingertip length veil. Her bouquet was of orange blossoms, bouvardia, white roses and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Sandra Hecht, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue faille dress with headpiece in matching blue velvet. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white bouvardia.

Broadmoor Bazaar Puebla Mills Source Of Interesting Skirt Patterns Offered At Fete

Something different is being offered in the way of bazaar items by the Women's Association of the Community Presbyterian Church of Broadmoor.

This year they are featuring ladies' skirts, made to order of lovely prints in percale, Indian Head and chintz brought from Mexico by Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown. Mrs. Marvin Howard will make the skirts to your order.

Mrs. Brown went to considerable effort to find quality cottons in interesting patterns and the materials she brought back are both lovely and unusual.

This is Mrs. Brown's own story: "At the June meeting of our Community Presbyterian Church Women's Association in Broadmoor every member agreed to be responsible for some worthwhile contribution to our Fall Church Bazaar.

Good Idea
"As I had planned to stop over in Mexico for a few weeks, it seemed a good idea for me to contribute something pertaining to Mexico. I suggested that I might get some attractive cotton Mexican textiles, to be used in making skirts.

"Mrs. Marvin Howard, who is an experienced dressmaker and designer, volunteered to see that the materials were made up into skirts, and she added, "Be sure they are good materials because that is the only kind I like to work with." I promised to do my best. I really had no idea as to where I could buy beautiful Mexican cotton goods, but I was quite sure the Chambers of Commerce in Monterey and Mexico City would tell me where to go.

"The officials in Monterey's Chamber of Commerce did not let me down. They were very friendly and helpful. Through them I was able to find in the Almacenes beautiful materials, Indian Head and chintz, woven and designed in Puebla mills. Again, in Mexico City the Chamber of Commerce directed me to stores that carried the products of Mexico City mills.

Traffic Safety Group Reorganized

Overall plans and objectives of the recently reorganized San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission were revealed today by James C. Black, new Executive Secretary.

He stated, "It will be the primary function and duty of the traffic safety commission to coordinate the efforts of citizens, service clubs, and municipalities toward greater safety on our streets and highways."

"To give us a county-wide picture of our traffic problems," Black explained, "the commission is comprised of five members; one from each of the supervisorial districts of San Mateo County. Each is appointed by the Board of Supervisors because of his sincere interest or outstanding contributions in the field of traffic safety."

"It is the opinion of the Commission," Black continued, "that law enforcement agencies throughout the county have done and are doing an outstanding job, and are using their facilities and energies in an effective and efficient manner. But they feel, as does the commission, that apprehending violators, important as it is, cannot, by itself, do all we desire in preventing accidents. That is why one of the most important functions of the commission is to coordinate educational efforts."

"Our goal," Black concluded, "is to create the desire in the mind of every driver to operate his vehicle, not only within the limits of the law, but in a careful and courteous manner at all times."

Jeff Faces San Jose In League Opener

Indian Gridders Go Friday At Local Field Without Four First Stringers

With four starters sidelined because of injuries, the Jefferson Indians will face a crucial test this week, opening their league play against San Jose High School Friday, October 12, at Jefferson Field beginning at 3 p.m.

The San Joseans, who tied Santa Cruz Union High School last week, 6-6, are presumably at full strength, while Coach Glenn South's squad will enter the game minus the services of left end Harold Hazen, right end Mac Douglas, left half Don Espinoza, and left guard Peter Koprac.

In pre-league contests the Jeffersonians were defeated twice, bowing to Mt. View, 27-16 and Santa Cruz, 18-6.

Injuries were minimized in the Mt. View encounter, but the Santa Cruz game took its toll. Peter Koprac, 229 pound right tackle, received a knee injury which may sideline him for the season.

Mac Douglas pulled a muscle in his chest, while Don Espinoza, playing exceptionally well, suffered a twisted knee. Hazen is again sidelined because of the flu. Gene Lorenzo has been nominated to handle Hazen's position. Stan Davis will take over right tackle, while tackle Joe Lewkowicz will move from second string tackle to right end. Jim Steven will start at left half.

Bob Holster was also injured in the Santa Cruz game but should be ready Friday.

In re-hashing the last two contests, Coach South praised both Mt. View and Santa Cruz. "The Santa Cruz team had us out-weighted ten to fifteen pounds per man," he said.

Biggest factor in the Mt. View clash was the fine passing and receiving. "Their ends were almost 6' 6" apiece he added. With such tall ends the quarterback had little trouble hitting his receivers.

South's purpose was not to make excuses for his losses. He was first to note the Indians tackling and blocking faults, and poor pass defense.

With four minutes remaining in the Santa Cruz game, last Friday, the score was tied 6-6. Espinoza had scored in the second quarter for the Indians from ten yards out hitting off tackle.

The Santa Cruzians first tally came in the third quarter. All tied up, and with four minutes to go, Jeff was forced to kick from its own ten. A bad kick gave Santa Cruz the ball on their opponents 30 yard stripe. From there they took it over.

Then with less than a minute and a half left, the Santa Cruzians, following a sustained drive, scored again. The final score was 15-6.

Coach South stated that he was exceptionally pleased with Hazen's defensive work. The Santa Cruzians could not pierce his end. With consistency, he bowled over two or three men interference to get the runner. Hazen will not play this week because of illness.

Anxiety Subsides With Series End

By FRANK MONTE

World Series-itis, that annual reoccurrent bug, which captures almost the entire nation every October, vanished today following the New York Yankee's retention of the crown, World Champions of Baseball.

The grocer, office work, truck driver, and laborer settled down to normalcy to thrash out arguments of politics, labor and wars.

Yankee followers gleefully rejoiced, while the less fortunate Giant backers had only visions of next year's pennant drive to console them.

Yankeeville took it in stride, having taken the title so many times, while Giant fans remembered the sensational pennant drive staged by Giants, which was decided in the last inning of a three game playoff.

When friends met on the street the usual "hello" prevailed, instead of the anxious greeting, "What's the score?" which had dominated for six days.

Interest

The many people who only live baseball during World Series week, turned their interests elsewhere. Shopkeepers again devoted their full attention to customers. For six days they had listened to customers half-heartedly, while their main efforts were concentrated on the radio screaming from somewhere in back of the shop.

The more fortunate office worker took his radio home, while the less fortunate white collar man, who had scamped around the office for six days obtaining scores and highlights whenever possible, was glued to his desk hurriedly catching up on back work.

TV service men took less time between calls, having nothing but a television pattern to arouse them.

Crowds Gone

Gone were the crowds that had stood in front of local furniture and TV stores for six days. Gone were blares of radios, that had occupied every nook and cranny of the city. Gone was the happy anxiety that had captured all the nation.

Gone was the only time when the nation had been divided in a happy way instead of the usual religious, political, or racial manner.

The nation had returned to normalcy—but who wants it?

No License Needed For Pier Fishing

Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, ruled this week, in an opinion handed down at the request of the Fish and Game Commission, that fishing from a pier in salt water is now allowed without a state fishing license.

Brown held that the ocean waters of the state included all enclosed bays along the coast adjacent to the ocean, such as Humboldt, Tomales, S.F., San Pedro and San Diego, as well as in open roadsteads such as Santa Monica, Monterey, and San Luis Obispo.

Such fishing may be done only from public piers where the public has continual right to use such piers without charge. This includes all jetties or breakwaters. Also, only one line may be used.

Alleged Suicide Attempt Foiled

Because he was despondent over ill health, Frank Davis, 53 602 Oak street, San Francisco, allegedly attempted suicide in a rented car Tuesday on Thornton Beach.

Daly City police received a call from the Silver Saddle informing them of the suicidal attempt nearby. When officers Beecher, Munday and Bastedo responded they found Davis sitting in a sedan with the motor running and a hose attached to the exhaust pipe and leading into the car.

They pulled Davis out of the automobile and rushed him to the Junipero Serra hospital where he was treated. It was learned that for the past two months he had suffered from ill health.

Davis was released into the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Gensal, also of 602 Oak street, San Francisco.

A note found at the scene of the near tragedy read: "To whom it may concern. When I am first

S. F. Gators Clash With Chico State

San Francisco State's Golden Gators will try for their fourth win in five starts this Saturday night when they meet their former Far Western Conference rival the Chico Wildcats at Chico.

Although the Gators have been independent since last year's meeting the two teams still have a rivalry for the Dan Farmer Trophy, which is currently in the hands of the Gators, who won last year's contest 15 to 6. The award was donated by Gator basketball coach Dan Farmer several years ago.

Farmer starred for Chico State in his college days.

The team which wins three seasons in a row gains permanent possession of the trophy. In the past two seasons each team has won the trophy.

Deer Bag Reaches New Season Limit

The Department of Fish and Game revealed that California deer hunters had taken a total of 33,620 deer by the first of October—topping all previous records for the tenth day of the late hunting season.

Bow and arrow hunters raised their annual bag to 28 deer—11 of which were reported taken in the early season. All the figures are based on tallies of deer hunting tags returned to the Department by successful hunters.

A Department spokesman urged hunters to mail their tags early, so that game managers may assess the results of the 1951 hunting seasons in time to make recommendations for next year's seasons and bag limits.

Attorney Tom Brown Sweeps Singles Crown In Calif. Club Tennis Tourney

Tom Brown, one time Forrest Hill and Wimbledon tennis runner up, captured the men's single of the California Tennis Club Tournament last weekend, a tourney which he described as "one that I could finally win."

Brown, who is an attorney for the law firm of Fahey, Castagneto and Gallen, after losing in the California State matches and San Francisco Tennis Tournament, received a suggestion from one of his employers, Tom Gallen, to seek a smaller tourney suited for him.

Brown obliged, and took the singles of the California Tennis club matches from Seth Peterson, 6-2 and 7-5.

Once a top man in the tennis world and second only to Jack Kramer, Brown has now limited his tennis playing to weekends.

Ferocious Fish Now On Exhibit

A piranyan, most ferocious of fishes, is a new exhibit in Steinhart Aquarium of the California Academy of Sciences, Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. This jawed, silvery fish has an orange breast, reports Dr. Robert C. Miller, director of the Academy.

Despite its robin-like coloring, Dr. Miller says that the piranya lives up to its reputation. In its native Amazon River, the natives are deathly afraid of it. They cite cases where unwary or unfortunate swimmers have lost fingers and other portions of their anatomy to the voracious creatures. Mauled by the scent of blood, schools of these fish have stripped the flesh from the bones of animals in a matter of minutes.

As an aquarium attendant in an eastern city recently lost a finger to a hungry piranya, extra precautions are observed in tending the Steinhart Aquarium's new accession.

Another new exhibit in the Steinhart Aquarium is an African rhinoceros viper, loaned by Sterling Bunnell. This is one of the Seventh Annual Grand National Livestock Show To Open October 26

Two weeks from tomorrow (Friday) the huge doors of the San Francisco Cow Palace swing open and the seventh annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo with its multi-million dollars in livestock and world championships in rodeo will be off to an auspicious 10-day run.

The opening night's performance October 26 will be made auspicious by the Armed Forces. Free admissions will be given men in uniform without the payment of the usual federal tax. Under an amendment to the internal revenue laws that became effective October 1, the Grand National became the first major attraction in Northern California to offer service men this advantage.

Coupons

Coupons have been distributed to all naval and military establishments and veterans' hospitals in the bay region entitling men to free $2.50 reserved seats for the opening performances. Service personnel must have the coupons for admission.

Opening number will be the world premiere of "Roundup on the Range" by Fred Gray, featuring Dude Martin and his famous western band in a scene reminiscent of early day cattle drives. With his bandmen and featured singer, Sue Thompson, Martin will provide an opening new to Cow Palace audiences.

Boom Town

Similarly new features will be presented in the Boom Town Quadrille from Burk Burnett, Texas, as the 18 perfectly matched quarter horses do a series of square dances, and a Wild Horse Stampede in which 50 unbroken mustangs will thunder unfettered about the arena while cowboys on foot try to seize and ride them.

Each of these highlights will be a feature of the 14 arena shows scheduled for the 10 days of the Grand National. Matinees will be held on Saturdays and Sundays, October 27 and 28 and November 3 and 4.

A whopping $92,924 offered in livestock premiums had lured a record entry of cattle, sheep and swine to the exhibitors' areas while more than 200 of the country's top ranking cowboys were preparing to assemble here for the year's final efforts to capture world titles in all-around performance, bareback and saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and Brahma bull riding.

Windbreakers In Third League Win

The South San Francisco Windbreakers retained their position at the top of the NACL along with the Petaluma Leghorns by trouncing the Oakland Rams last Sunday at Hunter field 54-0.

In taking their third consecutive league game and fifth contest in as many starts, the Windbreakers displayed their great defensive prowess, holding the Rams to a minus 78 yards gained. Only once did the East Bay team threaten to score, and then they could do nothing but pick up two yards in four attempts.

To date this season, one tally has been scored against the Windbreakers.

With two star backs out of the game, Bob Hamilton, Bill Botief, and Herm Howard handled most of the ground work. Hamilton, former frosh start at San Jose state college, took over the safety spot, and ran back five punts for 138 yards.

Also, taking an intercepted pass, Hamilton returned the ball 57 yards. Botief carried ten times for 106 yards and three touchdowns.

Coach Leo Ferko has scheduled tough workouts this week in preparation for Sunday's game against the San Francisco Broncos at Hunter Field at 2:15 p.m. The Broncos have only one loss thus far, that attributed to the Petaluma Leghorns who won 16-12.

Szabo To Defend State Mat Crown

Sador Szabo, California heavyweight wrestling champion, will defend his mat title against Lee Henning in the feature event of San Mateo Boxing and Wrestling Club's opening program Thursday, October 18, at the Fiesta building.

Szabo, former world champion, is a colorful and aggressive wrestler who has been the favorite of Californians for many years, while Henning is also a top flight matman.

Three strong supporting matches will complete the card staged for the benefit of the Amvets.

James Kehoe, president of the sponsoring organization, reports workmen are busy converting the Fiesta building into a sports arena and that accommodations will be available for 3000 fans.

Muir Woods, at the foot of the Mt. Tamalpais, in Marin County are the nearest redwood groves to San Francisco.

Sarto AC Defeats New Pisa Nine 11-3

Brilliant five hit pitching by Tito Santos and an inside-the-park home run by Parodi, sparked Santos A.C. to an 8-3 win over New Pisa in the first week of San Mateo Winter league last Sunday.

Pfender and Parodi both got three hits in five times at bat. Santos, who had a two hitter into the eighth frame, was relieved by Ottenello in the ninth inning.

Santos AC meets Double Play Sunday at Marchbanks Park at 11:30 a.m. The San Mateo winter league promises to produce some fine baseball, judging by the large number of professional players included on many of the team rosters.

Nabbing only two runs on three hits, Daly City AC was defeated by J. A. Herzog last Sunday, 11-3.

The Herzogs got 17 hits off pitcher Ruyar.

Idle last week, Vince and Fred Liquors met Tony Pandey at Marchbanks park Sunday, beginning at 2 p.m.

New Ice Cream Store

Godfrey's Dish It Up

This week the greater Daly City area welcomed a new, finer ice cream store to its business district. . . Godfrey's Fine Ice Cream Store, 383 South Mayfair.

Because of the excellence of its merchandise the store is a welcome addition to the Westlake Shopping Center, and its patrons can always be assured that the quality of the ice cream purchased there is unsurpassable.

Approximately 30 different and unusual flavors can be obtained in these ice creams. Consequently with such a wide choice of flavors, everyone can have his favorite dessert. And not only his favorite dessert, but a different flavored ice cream to suit his changing tastes from time to time.

If you are in the mood for fruit flavors, Godfrey's Ice Cream store can supply you with flavors of this nature that are truly marvelous with the true fruit flavor combined with the smoothness of the velvet texture of the rich ice cream.

New combinations are especially featured. Berry and fruit flavors, chocolate and maple and others are all inter-mixed with all kinds of nuts and other ingredients to produce something really outstanding for the sophisticated appetites of today.

George Godfrey and Sidney Johnson are the owners of this ice cream business. Mr. Godfrey has made his home in this locality for 26 years.

MINOR FIRES REQUIRE AID FROM FIREMEN

A thorn hedge on the south side of Crocker school was set on fire Saturday afternoon, it was reported today.

This blaze, as well as several others of a minor nature, brought out Daly City fire department companies on a number of occasions over the weekend.

A passing motorist saw the hedge burning and notified the Daly City police department.

A pipe at the Stanford Service station on Alemany extension caught fire Sunday and required the attention of the local fire fighters.

Grass fires were extinguished by the local firemen at the following locations: at the end of Shakespeare street; in the hills at about 141 Vista avenue, and by the Skyline boulevard, one-fourth mile north of the Silver Saddle.

Income taxes are going up again, excise taxes are on the rise—but one class of taxpayer—the baby population—is about to get a break. The 20 per cent tax on baby oils and powders finally has been repealed.

But tax relief stops this year with the baby of the family. Excise taxes—Uncle Sam's version of the sales tax—are being increased on a number of items and being newly applied to a long list of other items commonly found on Mom and Pop's shopping lists. The new rates and new taxes are expected to go into effect on the first of November.

Cigarette Taxes
For the past two years, the California legislature flirted with the idea of a State cigarette tax, but didn't adopt one because it was felt that that particular source had already been exhausted. Apparently it hadn't been, for if the Federal tax bill now nearly completed is approved, the tax on a package of cigarettes will go up another penny to 8 cents. At that rate a person who smokes a pack per day will contribute $29.20 to the Federal till in a year's time.

The excise tax on new automobiles will increase from 7 per cent to 10 per cent. That's $150 on a car that costs $1500 at the factory. But motorists who let the tax discourage them and decide to make the old car do a while longer don't face too cheerful a prospect, either, for the tax on new parts is going up from 5 to 8 per cent.

Gasoline Tax Up
The Federal gasoline tax will go up, too; another 1/2 cent per gallon.

An attempt was made in Congress to give taxpayers with medical expenses a break, by permitting deduction of all medical, dental and hospital expenses from income tax calculations, instead of just the excess over 5 per cent of gross income which is now allowed. In arguing for the proposal, one Senator cited the absurdity of allowing a deduction for the veterinarian's bill for treating a sick cow, but not the doctor's bill for treating a sick child.

Sickness Deductions
The proposal didn't pass. Most Senators seemed impressed by the argument, and in agreement that the idea offered a sound approach to the problem of relieving the burden of medical costs. But this year, Congress was looking for new tax sources, and in no mood to grant tax relief anywhere along the line, with the one exception of the tax on baby oils.

Among the new taxes Congress has levied is a 10 per cent excise toll on lawnmowers, ice cream freezers, doorbell chimes, hedge-clippers and dishwashers. The new tax is likely to be applied as well to vacuum cleaners, washing machines, electric razors, cigarette lighters and fountain pens.

And let no one think he can escape the new taxes by taking to drink. The excise levy on bourbon is being raised by 30c a fifth.

Radiation Defense Course Offered

The opening of the Civil Defense Course in Radiation Monitoring has been delayed until Tuesday, October 9.

This course, which is being offered by the Adult Education Division of the South San Francisco Unified School District, is the first of its kind in Northern San Mateo County. Radiation Defense is recognized as being one of the most vital aspects of National Defense, and yet, to date, it has received very little attention.

Most of the delay has been due to the lack of Geiger Counters and other instruments needed to detect and measure the level of deadly radiation. These instruments are now on hand, and so training can begin.

Mr. Rutherford, who will be teaching the course, has announced that there is still some room available so that a few more students would be able to enroll. Anyone from San Bruno north through Daly City, who is interested in taking this course in Radiation Defense should report to the office of South San Francisco High School by 7:30 p.m. on next Tuesday.

Serveau's Flower Shop. He is assisted by Mrs. Audrey Eves who brings to this position a background of 18 years as a floral designer.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in trashpiles, rubbish, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Teach your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzene, naphtha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

And remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags should be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.

Taste-Teasers

By NANCY COOK—ANS Features

There are two things to consider when planning warm-weather menus. First, choose foods that take very little effort to prepare. For when you, yourself, stay calm and collected, the psychological effect is passed on to your household. You'll find that your family and guests won't notice the heat half as much as they would if you bustled around a hot stove, and then came to the table all heated and too exhausted to eat. The second consideration, of course, is to serve cool food . . . food that tastes as good as it sounds. This is one sure way to conquer lagging summer appetites.

An excellent combination for a hot weather lunch is crisp, fresh cereal served with well-chilled fruit. Here you have a combination of foods everyone likes. Nutritious and satisfying, easy on the budget, too—for fresh fruits in season are always a good "buy," and the canned or fresh frozen juices are economical to use. Ready-to-eat cereals cost very little per serving, and since there are so many different kinds (from Corn Flakes, the "old favorite," to the new Corn Soya Shreds) you have endless choice for menu variety—even if you have cereal lunches most every day in the week.

Here are some serving suggestions. Try them, and then experiment with other combinations.

Cut a ripe cantaloupe in half and remove the seeds. Fill the cavity with crisp, whole-some Rice Krispies and serve with milk. This is as appetizing a luncheon dish as you'd want to see.

Or, open a can of cold fruit nectar—apricot, peach or pear. Pour it over a bowl of crisp corn flakes. You'll want no added sugar with this one.

Spoon chilled slices of canned peaches over whole wheat flakes. Be generous with the peach syrup and you will add little milk or rich cream.

Assorted fresh fruits—grapefruit and orange segments; grapes, bananas and apple slices—make bright and colorful accompaniments of ready-to-eat cereals.

Remember these fruit and cereal combinations for a light supper, too, on hot days. They'll keep you and your kitchen cool.
